PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

◇—————◇
I am a highly motivated and enthusiastic third-year Computer Science and Engineering student with a strong interest in full-stack web development. I have hands-on experience in building web applications, developing frontend interfaces, and working with backend technologies. I've completed multiple internships and training programs that enhanced my skills in web development, Java programming, and real-time project implementation. I'm eager to learn, grow, and contribute effectively as an intern by applying my knowledge to solve practical challenges.
